四、閱讀測驗：(每題 2 分，共 10 分)

Sun Tsui-feng is a superstar of Taiwanese Opera. But do you know she didn't speak much Taiwanese before she was twenty-six?

She practiced speaking Taiwanese and learned the skills for the opera because her husband was the leader of Ming Hwa Yuan. At first, nobody thought she could make it because people usually learned the skills when they were kids. She was thirty when she started learning to be a "xiaosheng" (young man), and she learned from zero. People say, "ten years of hard work before three minutes on stage." She practiced day and night for seven years and finally became the leading hsiao-hseng.

In 1994, Ming Hwa Yuan had a show on Champs-Élysées, a street in Paris. People were crazy about them. The first lady of France came the next day and enjoyed the show a lot. She said French people knew more about Taiwan after the show.

Sun Tsui-feng had tears in her eyes when she looked back to the difficult days; however, she was brave enough then to work hard for a different and now a colorful life.
